Conor:

The client confirms that payroll stops on the dates reflected in the income statement we sent to you which I believe as April 2023 when the entity ceased operations.

With respect to the bank statements prior to 2022, the client changed accounting systems and no longer has access to those statements. I suspect those statements will have to be retrieved from the Bank. I will ask the client to go back and try to find the June 2023 statement which we apparently did not produce.

With respect to the tax returns, I will have to confirm its existence with the client, but I suspect that this was a wholly owned pass-through entity which prepared no separate tax return. I will go back to the client and confirm whether a tax return was prepared.

Thank you, Randy. I forgot to mention, but if you could just get confirmation that UFS canceled its payroll account in April of 2023 (we don't have any after then) and inquire on statements for January and February of this year, as well. Appreciate the assistance.

Randy,

We've had a chance to look over the documents provided in the link and irrespective of the emails we discussed, it looks like we're still missing several groups of key documents requested in the RFPs. Some of the notable ones, for example, include bank statements prior to 2022 (and for June of 2023) and UFS's tax returns.

When do you anticipate being able to supplement the missing bank statements or other documents?

Regards,

Conor P. White
